

Bernhard Lederer

BLU SA

After earning a degree as a master watchmaker from Phorzheim's School for Master Artisans, the CEO of BLU SA, Bernhard Lederer, opened up a manufactory in Oben-Roden in Germany. He specialised in the reconstruction and restoration of vintage clocks and watches, which eventually led to constructing his own. The first was a table clock with perpetual calendar, featuring a moon phase indication made with such high accuracy that the first correction will only become necessary after a thousand years. In the year 2000, he moved to Switzerland to start BLU SA.

"I remember how pleasurable it was to travel with my parents. At that time it was a part of education, a great lesson of tolerance. Today it is a part of my experience"
